Old Chinese Paintings Come To Life
By Katie Cheung

19 old Chinese paintings from the Tang dynasty were reproduced into a film by modern technology. The interesting project work, produced by 15 students from Hong Kong Design and Media School, is going on display this Saturday. They have won the 'Best Student Design Award' this year.

2 Student Lucy Kwan, who helped produce the film, thought that this was an easier way for the public to know more about Chinese paintings.

1 Lucy said they tried to tell the story in a funny way. For example, they put some cartoon characters into the film. The story is about time travel: a Hong Kong student was sent back to the Tang dynasty, where she had learnt a lot about Chinese history.

5 The film will be shown to the public at Kowloon City Plaza, from 14 September to 29 September, 11 am to 6 pm. For more information, please visit <http://www.paintingsinifilm.com/hk>.
