

Complete the exercise below with the words from the word box.

noticeable	trivial	dwelling on	insignificant	overburden relief	impulse	meditation	disrupt	suppress has...up his sleeve

1. Moralists see human clones and genetically modified babies as equally problematic: both are biotechnological attempts to bypass human's physical constraints to _____ the natural order of existence.
2. The aims of rehabilitation centres are to mould young offenders into law-abiding citizens, to provide them with life and vocational guidance, and to prevent them from _____ the mistakes they have made in the past.
3. The prime minister, having successfully resolved some of the most pressing issues that remained unchecked over the past two decades, including citizens' deep-seated distrust of the government, is considered the most competent and resourceful governor the nation has ever had, as he always _____ ideas _____ that would bring about win-win results.
4. The moment Koey saw the new, gracefully displayed iPhone 21, she felt suddenly a strong nerve _____ running through her body. And this awful sensation would keep visiting her, with it getting more and more unbearable each time, until the coming of the pay day.
5. During the debate, the environmentalist cited examples of the self-healing power of nature after each natural disaster to make his point that mankind is too weak and _____ to be compared to Mother Nature.
6. Present-day _____, a safe and economical practice that aims to reduce stress and to achieve mental clarity, is substantially different from what it was in the past, a religious practice that aims at spiritual elevation.
7. In the hope of putting an end to the many insults that lasted years, the woman decided to spend all her savings on a cosmetic surgery in Korea, knowing that it might bring forth a _____ change to her self-claimed 'mediocre' appearance.
8. The recent proposal to make Chinese literature a compulsory subject in secondary school curriculum was met with strong opposition from the education sector, with many teachers fearing that such a change would _____ pupils.
9. 'Taking antacids provides temporary _____ from your stomach ache. In the long run, you ought to start eating properly to solve the problem once and for all,' said a physician to his chronic gastritis patient.
10. The symptoms that the newly discovered virus causes, like coughing and fatigue, are not terrifying. It is, rather, the virus's ability to quickly _____ one's immune system that frightens people around the world.
11. Having dealt with customer complaints for years, I personally detest those about _____ matters, like the lemon not being sour enough and the chips being too crispy.