

Complete the exercise below with the words from the word box.

Are...off...nut	havoc	atrocious	get round
egoist	ailment	understated	culprit

1. Dizziness and blurred vision are generally considered stress-induced _____ that can be managed without medication, yet they can also be the early symptoms of more serious medical conditions like cerebral infarction.
2. 'I think it is very clear that recruiting children under the age of 15 into the army is an _____ crime, to be precise, an unforgivable war crime, as defined by the International Criminal Court. Convicted war criminals are usually subject to either life imprisonment or capital punishment,' said the presenter.
3. 'You can't feed chocolate to dogs! _____ you _____ your _____? Chocolate is like poison to them!' a dog owner said to another.
4. Students' English writing competence has been on the decline since 2002, and it has been suggested by many educators that the education system, which was reformed in 2001, is the main _____.
5. 'Out of all of the roles Leonardo DiCaprio has played, Jordan Belfort in The Wolf of Wall Street is, in my opinion, the most captivating one. His authentic portrayal of an _____ who is unapologetic about what he says and does sends shivers down my spine,' said a film critic.
6. To _____ the problem of customers ordering food more than they can finish, some hotpot restaurants charge extra for any leftover food on a per-ounce basis.
7. Hurricane Katrina, a Category 5 tropical cyclone which wreaked _____ in southeastern Louisiana and caused a death toll of around 1,800 in August 2005, is one of the most destructive hurricanes in U.S. history.
8. During World War II, propaganda posters, which glorified the act of safeguarding a country and _____ the devastating consequences brought about by war, were printed and posted in public areas in the hope of recruiting new blood into the military.