Hi Edward,

How are you? I have been missing you so much since I changed to the new school. But it was great to see you at my birthday party last month.

I went camping with Alex and Sarah last week. They are my friends from school. Sarah's parents, Mr and Mrs Lo, took us to a campsite at Long Ke Wan. I put up a tent with Alex and Sarah. Sarah's parents slept in another tent. We made a campfire and ate sausages and chicken wings. They were yummy.

After dinner, Mr Lo played the guitar and we sang songs. Then, Sarah told us some jokes. After that, Alex told us a ghost story. It was about a dead man who was trying to find his wife and children along the river beside a haunted house. It was horrible. At midnight, we turned off our torches and got ready to sleep. Suddenly, we heard some strange noises. We looked outside and saw a wet man coming to us from the river! We thought it was a ghost and we screamed. Suddenly, 'the ghost' spoke and it was Mr Lo! He was trying to clean the pots but carelessly fell into the river. He swam back and wanted to ask us for a towel. He looked very amusing. We laughed and gave him a towel.

I wish you were with us. You would love it. I hope we can meet up next time. Write back soon!

Anna
