Title	A Great Writer – Oscar Wilde
Introduction	Oscar Wilde is a famous writer and poet. He wrote books, plays and poems. He was born in Dublin, Ireland on 16 October, 1854. His parents were both well-educated and had lots of money. His father was a doctor and his mother was a newspaper reporter and a poet.
Body	Oscar Wilde received a good education from his parents at an early age. He later went to Trinity College in Dublin and did very well on his studies. He received several prizes and went to study at Oxford University. When Oscar’s father died in 1876, his family’s life became difficult. His brother, William, decided that he would be responsible for taking care of them. At Oxford, Oscar continued to do well. After he graduated, he moved to London. There he sold his first collection of poetry. In 1884, he married Constance Lloyd. She was a beautiful woman who had a very bright mind. They had two sons together. In order to support his family, he worked for a magazine for two years. That was his most creative period.
Conclusion	Oscar gradually became an important writer, but he was arrested for being a homosexual. At that time, it was a crime in Britain. Wilde was put in prison for two years. His wife left him. After he had been released, he travelled around Europe, but he wrote very little. On 30 November 1900, Wilde died in a cheap hotel in Paris. He was a very sick man and had no money.
